SUNDAY READING.

Heterodoxy.

The trial of Rev. S. H. Tyng, Jr., commenced before the Board of Presbyters at the Chapel of St. Peter's Church, West Twentieth street, on the 10th inst. A letter from Jay Cooke was read by the President of the Board, urging that the laity were on the side of Mr. Tyng, and that the Board ought not to render a decision calculated to increase differences in the Church. The evidence for the prosecution was taken, showing that Mr. Tyng preached in a Methodist Church at New Brunswick, read prayers out of a Methodist Book of Common Prayer, gave out the lines of purely Methodist hymns, and wore, instead of the orthodox Episcopal surplice and gown, a full suit of Methodistic black. The assemblage that formed the audience at the trial enjoyed some of the comical portions of it with great zest.

Grant's Brother-in-Law.

It may not be generally known—and yet it is a matter of too much importance to be passed over in silence—that Gen. Grant has a brother-in-law. This important fact was recently disclosed by a Radical preacher at one of the most popular churches in an Eastern city. The preacher, after having given his congregation a good, solid dose of "pure" politics, closed his Bible, and looked around upon his congregation with a countenance which indicated that he had something of importance to communicate. The audience, as in duty bound, rustled a little, and then subsided into the silence of intense expectation. After the suspense proper before the delivery of a weighty matter, the elder opened his mouth and announced: "The closing prayer will be made by a brother-in-law of Gen. Grant."

Christian Charity.

A sermon upon the subject of Christian Charity is one of the most unwelcome contributions, and regarded as about as uncharitable as anything that can be offered to a Radical congregation. The great English Divine, Dr. Guthrie, while delivering a charity sermon to an audience of more than six hundred persons, in a fashionable and popular Church, preached so long that he lired out the hearers and put them all to sleep. We will avoid that misfortune this morning, by inviting the attention of our readers to the following lines, from which they will learn what a Radical congregation does when you undertake to preach to them about charity:

Great was the preacher's theme;
Screwed on was all the steam;
Neither with snort nor scream
Could the unfortunate dream
Of the six hundred.

Terrors to right of them,
Terrors to left of them,
Terrors in front of them—
Hell itself plunder'd
Of its most awful things
Stout-hearted sinners' flings
At the damloander'd.

Boldly he spoke and well;
All on deaf ears it fell;
Vain as the tolling bell,
Volley'd and thunder'd;
For, darling—let truth to tell—
Skilled for all to no purpose, Bard,
Snor'd the six hundred.

Still, with redoubled zeal,
Still he spoke on and,
And, in a wild appeal,
Striking with hand and heel—
Making the pulpit reel,
Shaken and sundered—
Call'd them the Church's foes,
Unrevealed with endless woes—
Faintly Echo answered
(Echoes of their sweet repose)
From the tuneful throng
Of the six hundred.

Sermons of near an hour,
Too much for human power,
Travers'd each point in matien
Extemporaneous batch,
Woefully bunda'd;
Churches that will not move
Out of their ancient groove
Through which they've flounder'd,
If they will be left behind,
Still must expect to find
Heavens of such a kind
As the six hundred.

Sugar Sussion.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, in the Ledger, discloses his dissent from the wisdom of Salomon in the management of children. He would not only "spare the rod," but give up its use altogether. For the rod he would substitute the stick—not the stick of birch, but the stick of candy. Perhaps it would be even better to employ a cane—sugar cane. But all sweets are apt to turn sour in digestion. Here is an extract from Brother Beecher's essay:

"As for ourselves, we tried the rod on our own children, but are now trying the sugar plum with our grandchildren. Thus far our success is remarkable. Family government has risen in quarterly Children cry for it. Our children used to look with aversion on the spot where we locked up the switch; but now there is not in the whole house a place so favorite as the drawer where is stored the sweet lucrial mansion. Good conduct thrives. Obedience is at a premium! The will is broken! The children are governed without knowing it! Blessings on sugar-plums!"

It is a curious fact, long noted and not yet explained, that the average grandparent is more indulgent to the juvenile descendants than the average parent. From this weakness it would seem that even the clergy are not exempt.

Woman and Matrimony.

At present, women are beautiful and delicate adjuncts of life. As Promotheus said of horses, they are the ornaments of wealth and luxury. They add perfume and refinement to existence. But, after all, it is an important question whether the conventional of women into this sort of drawing-room delicacy is not sacrificing the welfare of the many to the intellectual and social comfort of the few. The world pays a heavy price for having its imagination sentimentalized. One of the items in the bill is the disappointment of the thousands whose sensibilities are never destined to be satisfied. For every woman who marries happily, a large per centage never marry at all, or marry in haste and repent at leisure. It remains to be proved that it is wise to teach and train the sex to fix all their views in life and to stake all their fortunes on the chance of the one rare thing—a lucky matrimonial choice.

The Name of God in Forty-eight Languages.

As Louis Burger, the well-known author and philologist, was walking in the Avenue des Champs Elysees the other day, he heard a faultily voice exclaiming: "Buy some nuts of a poor man, sir; twenty for a penny!" He looked up and recognized his old barber.

"What! are you selling nuts?" said he.

"Ah, sir, I have been unfortunate."

"But this is no business for a man like you."

"Oh, sir, if you could only tell me of something better to do," returned the barber with a sigh.

Burger was touched. He reflected a moment; then tearing a leaf from his memorandum book, he wrote for a few moments and handed it to the man, saying, "Take this to a printing office and have a hundred copies struck off; here is the money for it. Get a license from the prefecture of the police, and sell them at two cents a copy, and you will have bread on the spot. The strangers who visit Paris cannot refuse this tribute to the name of God, printed in so many different ways.

The barber did as he was bid, and was always seen at the entrance to the Exposition, selling the following handbill:

THE NAME OF GOD IN FORTY-EIGHT LANGUAGES.

Hebrew, Elohim or Eloah; Chaldaic, Elah; Assyrian, Ellah; Syriac and Turkish, Alah; Malay, Allah; Arabic, Allah; Language of the Magi, Oral; Old Egyptian, Teut; Armorian, Teuti; Modern Egyptian, Teun; Greek, Theos; Cretan, Thios; Æolian and Dorle, Ilos; Latin, Deus; Low Latin, Diex; Celtic and old Gallic, Diu; French, Dieu; Spanish, Dios; Portuguese, Deos; old German, Diet; Provencal, Diou; Low Breton, Doue; Italian, Dio; Irish, Dia; Olala longue, Deu; German and Swiss, Gott; Flemish, Goed; Dutch, Godt; English and old Saxon, God; Teutonic, Goth; Danish and Swedish, Gut; Norwegian, Gud; Slavic, Buch; Polish, Bog; Tolvo Sunz; Lapp, Jubinas; Finnish, Jumala; Runic, Ais; Pannonian, Istu; Zamblian, Fetizo; Hindostanee, Rain; Coromandel, Brama; Tartar, Magatal; Persian, Sire; Chinese, Pusea; Japanese, Goezer; Madagascar, Zanar; Peruvian, Punhogmac.

As few days after, Burger met the barber.

"Well," said he, "has the holy name of God brought you good luck?"

"Yes, sir. I sell on an average a hundred copies a day two cents each, or two dollars; but the strangers are generous; some give me ten cents, and others twenty. I have even received half a dollar a copy; so that, all told, I am making five dollars a day."

"Five dollars a day?"

"Yes, sir, thanks to your kindness."

Burger walked away, thinking, "If I were not a literary man, I would turn peddler or publisher; there is nothing so profitable as selling the learning or wit of others."—N. Y. Observer.

—A Building owned by L. W. Bradley, on Main street, Dubuque, Iowa, was totally destroyed by fire, on Saturday night. Loss on building and contents, $50,000; insurance, $30,000.

—Simeon D. Hunter, employed in the office of the Michigan Southern Railroad, at Toledo, borrowed a pistol from the bar-keeper of the Island House saloon, in that city, on Sunday, and immediately put it to his head and fired, the ball passing entirely through the skull, causing instant death.

—The new jail at Louisville, Ky., it is said, is to be projected of wrought iron

GENERAL ITEMS.

—There are said to be slaves still held by the Seminoles.

—Wild turkeys and venison do not sell for as much as beef at Pensacola, but cost more wherever there are game laws as there should be.

—The Central Park at New York has cost more than ten millions of dollars, but what would the great commercial metropolis be without it, or how do?

—Nast is painting ten pictures of the Seventh Regiment of New York. Were we to judge by some of his pictures in Harper, they will be Nasty indeed.

—Jerome has sold the great racer Lexington to Messrs. Bathgate, Skidder and Constable, retaining a fourth interest, for $40,000.

—Cambridge, Mass., is very much exercised because negroes are excluded from the fashionable skating rink.

—An attempt was made recently to rob the city of New Orleans of a round million of dollars, from the vault of the City Hall. A policeman named G. W. Kent, has been charged with leaving his beat as night-watchman of the Hall, and during his absence the attempted robbery was made, and was very nearly successful. He is regarded in the light of an accessory, and there will be an investigation of his conduct. He has been suspended, and the affair will be sifted thoroughly. It is alleged that there are notorious thieves on the force, which will also be investigated. Such characters should not be tolerated on any police force, but should be instantly dismissed, unless completely able to exonerate themselves.

—James Dolan, formerly of Covington, was arrested at Springfield, Illinois, on Saturday, for the murder of his wife.

—The pending bill to create the Territory of Wyoming, establishes equal rights of suffrage and eligibility to office for negroes and whites.

—A man was expelled from the Methodist Church at Junction City, Kansas, the other day, for having obtained admission on forged papers.

—Large land-holders in Greene County, Alabama, are offering to give the use of their plantations for the next year to any one who will agree to pay taxes on them.

—New Orleans claims to possess more miles of street railway than any city of its size in the world.

—Gen. Gillem has ordered an election on the ratification of the constitution of Arkansas, to commence on the 15th of March and continue five days.

—On the 11th inst., a spirited horse, half brother of the celebrated Dexter, attached to a buggy in which were Chas. H. Sharp and John Knight, of Prairieville, Pike county, ran away on the ice on the Mississippi river, opposit to Louisana. Mr. Sharp was soon thrown out, and seriously, though not dangerously wounded. When at full speed the horse ran into an air hole with such velocity that horse, buggy and Mr. Knight, were thrown out of the water all in a heap on the solid ice. Singularly enough Mr. K. and the buggy suffered little, though the horse was a good deal damaged.

—The monotony of the House proceedings was varied on the 18th by a scene during the consideration of the bill granting pensions to the indigent soldiers of 1812. As expected, Washburn, of Illinois, opened batteries on the bill, and the Radical friends of the bill opened on Washburne. He was kicked and cuffed so unmercifully that he even declined calling the yeas and nays, and allowed the bill to pass without division. It is said to be the first time Washburne has ever been literally whipped into surrender.

—In Barnesville, Ohio, a few days ago, Mrs. Nathan Humphery fell into the fire, probably in a fit, while her husband and children were away, and was burned to death.

—The Albany Argus states that Hugh J. Hastings, of that city, has purchased the interest of Thurlew Weed in the New York Commercial Advertiser.

—An incendiary fire at Patterson, New Jersey, on Saturday, destroyed Annis' cigar factory, Ingliss' real estate office, Nott's crockery store, and McKee's livery stables. Loss heavy.

—Nettis Hien, of Wooster, Ohio, died at the age of fourteen, recently, from too much skating.

—Gen. Sherman declines the brevet rank tended him by the President.

—Mr. Bingham, of Ohio, has prepared an additional reconstruction bill—the fifth of the series—and will introduce it this week. It is intended to prevent the defeat of ratification of Southern States constitutions by electors refusing to vote. That's right, let Congress fetter and manacle the white people of the South, if they can, while they may. Their time is growing rapidly and surely short.

—Captain T. Townsend, a well known Missouri boatman has bought two-thirds of the little Tom. Stevens. Upon his arrival at St. Louis he will load her for Fort Benton.

—A Mound City paper says there is a family named Hampton, living near De Soto, Illinois, consisting of the old man, seventy-four years of age, his wife seventy, twenty-two children, the youngest an infant at the breast. The venerable mother has evidently forgotten that she is growing old.

The Death of a Millionaire.

The death of Mr. Crawshay, the wealthiest iron manufacturer in England, was announced several months ago. It was then understood that he left an estate of four millions sterling. It now turns out to be nearer seven millions, or $35,000,000. His youngest son took two millions under the will, but was also left residuary legatee, probably under the supposition that after paying the other legatees, no very large sum would be left. Curiously enough, however, on the final settlement it is found that he actually comes into possession of a million more, and he is, therefore, without doubt the richest "younger son" in England, perhaps in the world, for he begins life with an actual capital of fifteen millions of dollars.

Confession and Expiation.

Ottowa G. Baker was hanged at Omaha on the 14th. He was born at Richmond, Va., and was in the employ of W. R. King & Co., for whom Higgins, the murdered man, was bookkeeper. The following is his confession:

"I first planned the horrible crime in the old store, but was prevented, by unfavorable circumstances, till the fatal night. Higgins was sleeping in the bed. When I awoke, I got up carefully, avoiding making any noise; made two attempts, and was about giving up, when the idea that Higgins might be shamming sleep caused me to carry the resolution into effect. I first struck him a blow across the forehead with an axe. He drew a long breath, when I finished by striking him another blow. I then opened the safe, took the money out of the building and concealed it where it was found; returned and set the house on fire, and then shot myself through the arm, and gave the alarm of fire and murder, as soon as the house was full of smoke. I also had set fire to Heilman's old warehouse, previously, to prevent the deposit in bank. I had no idea the fire would consume the entire block."

Jesting in Extremis.

The New Orleans Times manages to extract some fun out of the situation in Louisiana. Perhaps, on the whole, it is wisest to laugh at the whole thing as a broad farce. It has these:

What are little boys made of, made of?
What are little boys made of?

Editors Memphis Appeal:

You struck the key-note yesterday morning, in your article headed "Plain Talk on Duty." If principle has no binding effect upon men now, then the men are unworthy, and should be laid aside as disorganizers and plotters of mischief. If the incentives to unity of action in view of the great interests of our common country, are insufficient, then the elements that constitute the obstruction or opposition are essentially incoherent, weak and unavailable for any good purpose. Personal preferences or predilections are so palpably inconsistent with the duties and obligations of all good citizens, in the present crisis, that argument is an insult to reason and revolting to the ordinary instincts of self-respect. Is the policy of rule or ruin to be pursued in the very face of the fearful perils that threaten? If this contest is to be a wild scramble for petty, selfish interests, then many of the Conservatives would prefer to surrender to the enemy, with as much grace as possible, in order that they may avoid the fear of shame—a miserable farce, under the name of a battle for freedom. Let us, with an eye single to preserving the republican institutions of our fathers, which combine all that is true, beautiful and good in government, unite our energies and press forward resolutely to the noble work of reformation and redemption.

PATENT MEDICINES.

MRS. JACKSON'S

Queen Bess Complexion Wash.

THE following certificates, selected from hundreds in the possession of the proprietress, are confidently submitted to the public:

MRS. WOLCOTT'S CERTIFICATE.

QUINCY, Ill., November 5, 1866.

MRS. JACKSON, Dear Madam—It is with pleasure that I certify to you, that several of your circulars, which contained certificates and indorsements from the best physicians and the highest medical authorities of the United States, certifying that your oils for the complexion and teeth were purely the oils, essences and essences of flowers, and they warrant it when used according to directions to cure the worst and most difficult cases of nursing sore mouth, canker of the stomach, bowels and dysentery. For scrofulous disorders, when used both internally and externally, it has no equal. Dear Madam, seeing this, and my little daughter, aged fifteen months, having the whooping cough for several months, accompanied with what the doctors call white canker, her mouth and throat being terribly ulcerated, and I having tried everything for its relief I could hear of, and finding no benefit, bought one bottle of your oil for the complexion, called "Queen Bess," went according to the directions, did not use quite one bottle, and I am most happy to state to you that it has cured my child. She is now as well and hearty as ever she was in her life. I give you this, my certificate, hoping you will publish it, that thousands of others who may be afflicted with any of the above complections may at once get a bottle of your "Queen Bess," for I feel sure they will find immediate relief.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. GEO. WOLCOTT,
Jersey street, between Lincoln and Seventh.

MRS. WM. R. COLLINS' CERTIFICATE.

CANNIBAL, Mo., August 22, 1866.

MRS. JACKSON, Dear Madam—I am most happy to inform you that after having suffered more than three years with what some physicians call nursing sore mouth, or canker in the mouth and throat, I tried various remedies, but found nothing to do me any good until I heard of your oils for the complexion and teeth, called "Queen Bess." I bought one bottle, went according to directions, and am truly thankful to say I have found a permanent cure. Hoping you will publish this, that other poor sufferers may be benefitted by it, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
MRS. W. R. COLLINS.

ANALYSIS OF THE

RALEIGH MINERAL SPRINGS,

THE SCHEME FOR THE DISPOSITION OF the Mineral Springs at Raleigh is before the public. That there may be no misunderstanding as to the properties of the water the analysis of five principal Springs is given to the public. The Springs respectively named, MARBLE, CROCK and KIRKSEA, were analyzed by an eminent chemist of St. Louis, Mr. Eno Sander, subsequently, two other Springs have been developed and named respectively, SALTLESS and MAGNOLIA. During the past summer the water of these Springs was submitted to Mr. Theo. Hoerner, one of the most learned chemists in this or any other country. The analysis, given below, was the work of time and laborious investigation, and, according to the testimony of the very first physicians, has developed a combination of properties which, for curative virtues, are not surpassed by any mineral waters on the continent.

BAYLESS OR BOX SPRING.

The following proportions of solid matter are contained in 10,000 grammes of this water:

18 Protocarbonate of Iron,
865 Carbonate of Lime,
57 Carbonate of Magnesia,
186 Chloride of Sodium,
525 Sulphate of Soda,
6.37 Sulphate Magnesia,
277 Silicic Acid,
709 Organic Substances,
Traces of Silicate of Alumnia,
2491 Free Carbonic Acid, equivalent to 1268.42 Cubic Centimetres, which serve to keep in solution the insoluble protocarbonates.

MAGNOLIA SPRING.

631 Protocarbonate of Iron,
264 Carbonate of Magnesia,
583 Carbonate of Lime,
102 Chloride of Sodium,
69 Sulphate of Soda,
70 Sulphate of Magnesia,
264 Sellicic Acid,
337 Organic Substances,
Traces of Silicate and Phosphate of Alumnia,
2387 free Carbonic Acid, equivalent to 1088 cubic centimeter.

The largest amount of free Carbonic Acid in all the Springs of the Valley—specific gravity of these Springs, 998.

EUREKA SPRING.

160 Chloride of Sodium,
142 Sulphate of Soda,
97 Sulphate of Potassa,
41 Bicarbonate of Magnesia,
56 Protocarbonate of Iron,
201 Carbonate of Lime,
153 Sulphate of Alumina,
1783 Free Carbonic Acid Gas, equivalent to 911.5 Cubic Centimeters, which serves also to keep in solution the carbonate compounds with which it is partly united.

CROCK SPRING.

132 Chloride of Sodium,
18 Chloride of Potassium,
135 Chloride of Calcium,
3 Chloride of Magnesium,
143 Bicarbonate of Magnesium,
42 Protocarbonate of Iron,
175 Sulphate of Lime,
1005 Free Carbonic Acid, equivalent to 511 Cubic Centimeters.

Organic matter, with traces of Nitrogen.

This is the contents of solid matter in 10,000 grammes, as in the first mentioned analysis, specific gravity, 995.

MARBLE SPRING.

Specific gravity, 995. Calculation made on basis of 10,000 grammes.

193 Protocarbonate of Iron,
146 Chloride of Sodium,
214 Sulphate of Soda,
98 Sulphate of Potassa,

PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE CONDUCT OF THE APPEAL.

A GOVERNMENT of white men for white men; and no political miscegenation.

LOYALTY to the Union of the STATES; FIDELITY to the Constitution in its true extent and meaning: Obedience to and maintenance of all law, State and National, constitutionally enacted.

RESISTANCE to Tyranny, Usurpation and Oppression, of one man or many; and to all encroachments upon the rights of freemen or of States, or upon the just and Constitutional prerogatives of any Department of the State or National Governments.

NO ESTABLISHMENTS of Military despotisms, no enthroning of martial law, no suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus, no slaying of citizens by Military Commission, no interference with the Courts, no lettres de cachet, in time of peace.

STRICT SUBORDINATION of the Military to the Civil Power.

NO STANDING ARMIES of States in time of peace

RESTORATION of disfranchised citizens to all rights and privileges of which they have been dissolved; no prosecutions or disqualifications for political opinions; for the PAST, oblivion of offences; for the PRESENT and FUTURE, UNION, PEACE, LAW and ORDER.

PERPETUAL ASSURANCE to all freemen of the African race, of all the CIVIL rights of freemen

NO REPUDIATION, by State or Nation, of any honest and lawful debt.

NO REVIVAL of old party differences; but a Union of all Conservative men, of all former parties, who revere the Constitution, to restore the old land-marks of the Government.

NO LEGISLATION to plunder one portion of the country for the profit of another portion.

WHATEVER is JUST; whatever is RIGHT; whatever is of GOOD REPUTE, and worthy of the descendants of English freemen.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON AND STANTON.

That which we had looked for and wished very many moons ago, has at length been accomplished. The President has assumed his true prerogative, and exercised his constitutional right to discharge a refractory and turbulent member of his Cabinet, who was not to be trusted, and whose selfishness and meanness rendered him so offensive that his very presence was intolerable.

Even President JOHNSON himself is aware that he has been dilatory in repelling the courtesies of the Senate in thrusting upon him an unwelcome Secretary, and superceding the latter with one who will, as in duty bound, be obedient to his superior officer, and not conspire to circumvent him in every effort for the benefit of the country. Like a kicked cur or a whining spaniel, STANTON sneaked off and communicated his disgrace,—if he could be disgraced—to little Speaker COLFAX. "Just to see what has been done to me! Have I deserved this? Won't you take my part? He's a bigger boy, and we must double teams on him." Off the matter goes to the Senate, which resolves that the President has no such power. But STANTON is out. Congress must feel itself brought up standing. Will it impeach now? There is the issue. The President has put his foot down, and that heavy appendage is pressed upon STANTON with fearful weight; what is to be done to remove it?

It was time the President should exercise his authority. During the previous administration, to doubt the infallibility of the President was treason; but the usurpations of Congress accumulated until he was almost converted into a cipher. The country will breathe more freely after this snubbing of the oligarchs. True, the markets were unsettled and that talisman, gold, made a supernatural leap upward. It indicated the serious apprehension entertained that there was to be trouble. There may be, but we rather think, for the present, the Senate will be contented with the resolution it has adopted, that will be regarded with the indifference one adopted by a Loyal League might be expected to receive.

STANTON is perhaps the most abject craven of them all. He is indeed plunged into the uttermost depths, and can be relumed by no Promethean spark. Not all his cunning, not all the appliances brought to bear through his supple instrument, GRANT, with the aid of the conceding SHERMAN, tutored by his circumspect brother the Senator, who had sired the tenure-of-office law and one not less iniquitous, to secure Alabama to negro Radicalism,—saved STANTON from ignominious defeat. The very stones should mock him as he sneaks over them. He is the vilest among the vile. His after-life should be spent in the torments of remorse, or the sackcloth and ashes of repentance.

What will be done? At this writing it is impossible to conjecture. "The statesman's game" is being played. There will be rapid movements. All the preliminaries have doubtless been arranged, and the smoke will be blown away to disclose a stout and resolute Executive, firmly planted on the Constitution, waving the flag of his country on high, while the sardonic group will be seen stealing into the impending gloom, the expression of the baffled and discomfited fiend impressed upon their malignant faces.

GEN. GILLEM, of Mississippi, as recent acts and orders show, is leaning quite decidedly to the Johnsonian policy of leaving everything in the hands of Southern people, so far as he can do it with any show of plausibility.—Missouri Democrat.

The conduct of Gen. GILLEM in not meeting the approbation of such a reckless Radical as the St. Louis Democrat, evinces a decent regard for the good opinion of good men, and exhibits a due deference to the Constitution and the laws. To depart from these, and cooperate in the wild and ruinous schemes of the Radicals, might obtain the loudest applause of the St. Louis Radical, but would entitle the General to the obloquy and odium which posterity will surely award to those who assist in overthrowing the liberties of the people, and aiding to build up a despotic oligarchy upon the ruins of the Constitution.

—It takes 16,000 bales of cotton or six millions, four hundred and eighty thousand pounds, to supply the daily demand of the cotton mills of the world.

THE TRIAL OF STANTON.

The movement of President JOHNSON to vindicate his Constitutional prerogative, in the removal of STANTON, has resulted in the arrest of the successor designated to supercede the arch intriguer of the Radical faction. Adjutant General THOMAS has been arrested by one Judge CARTER. Who is Judge CARTER? Of course he is the obedient minion and humble servant of the reconstruction clique at Washington. His arrest is based on an affidavit from STANTON, swearing that he had violated the tenure-of-office bill. Thus the collision between the Executive and Congress has culminated. STANTON is the tool of the Radical, revolutionary Congress. THOMAS is the representative of the President. A Judge has been found to arrest him for daring to obey an Executive order. It thus becomes a judicial question whether STANTON or THOMAS shall hold the position of Secretary of War, upon STANTON's own motion. From the Court of this CARTER there is, or ought to be, an appeal to higher Courts. And until such decision shall be rendered, the country may feel no apprehension of revolution, bloodshed or war. Nothing could be more impudent than the appeal of STANTON to the Courts. He has heretofore relied on force and fraud to sustain him in his dishonorable position. When pressed to the rack, he procures the arrest of his successor by a facile Radical tool. Like all Radicals, his motto and maxim is not to vacate his office as long as he can find the slightest pretext or any power to hold on. We shall see how the contest progresses.

THE SITUATION WELL STATED.

In an article on "Currency and Specie—A Sound Monetary System Wanted," the New York Herald of the 18th inst. admits that "questions pertaining to the National finances and currency will have considerable influence in the approaching Presidential campaign throughout the West." We have heretofore expressed the opinion very fully that they will have a most important bearing, and in the West will be a sine qua non. The resistance to Radical encroachment, and the settlement of the Reconstruction question go hand-in-hand, and furnish fields for controversy between the constitutionalists and unconstitutionalists or Radicals, but on the financial question, there is no distinctive line drawn, for STEVENS, BUTLER and others, even among the leading and most intense Radicals, regard with favor the mode of adjusting the public indebtedness, upon the equitable basis proposed by the leading Democrats of the West—of paying out of gold, what was contracted to be paid in gold, and in greenbacks that which was not.

The "situation" of the East and West, as we have remarked, has been fairly represented by the Herald. We reproduce that portion of the article, because the facts are presented just as they exist and could not be more comprehensively and succinctly stated.

The interests and necessities of communities govern them in their financial policy as far as they understand the difficult subject of national finance. Hence we see a large majority of the Western people of all parties in favor of a liberal and expanded currency, and the Eastern people for the most part in favor of contraction and forcing specie payments. The people of the West are poor, comparatively—that is, they have little realized or accumulated capital, and they require an abundant currency and easy money market to develop the resources of their section of the country, and to aid them in numerous enterprises. Besides, being largely indebted to the capitalists of the East, a contraction of the currency would increase the weight of their debts and throw a great many of them into bankruptcy. It is easy to see, therefore, why they are opposed to contraction, and why they demand an ample currency. In the East, on the other hand, the people have a great deal of realized or accumulated capital and are large holders of Government bonds. A contraction of the currency and forcing specie payments would increase their wealth, would add to the value of their bonds, and, Shylock like, would enable them to put the screws to their debtors. It would increase the wealth of the rich and the poverty of the poor. Herein lies the real motive for the difference of views and policy in the two sections of the Republic.

One of our morning cotemporaries, which does not seem, in public estimation, to have any political status, has set its face against the policy which has met with so much favor in the West, and is shocked, morally speaking, that any body should think of paying any part of the public debt in greenbacks. It talks glibly about honor, may be on the principle that a great ado is made about that of which one has the least, and is evidently disgusted that any one should wish the Government to take up its bonds in legal tender notes, although those bonds were sold for currency not worth forty cents on the dollar. By some means and in some way the payment of the bonds in greenbacks very much afflicts our morning cotemporary, and the idea of "repudiation" almost flings it into spasms. It has got hold of a hebdomadal, published at St. Louis, edited by B. B. TAYLOR, and called, for want of a more appropriate title, "The Repudiator." Of course the object of the publication is to make money, and defend the policy of getting rid of the unequal taxation under which the nation reels and staggers. It assumes the proposition that the public debt is just or unjust—that if just, it should be paid, every dollar, and if unjust, it should not be paid at all. Believing it to be unjust, the new paper, the Repudiator, is opposed to payment. This affects our cotemporary in a wonderful degree. It says "Go into a poor log hut in our Western woods and ask its humble tenant to refuse to pay for the food and clothing he has purchased for his family, and he will treat the maker of the proposition as a scoundrel, and the proposition itself as an insult." Now, without defending the Repudiator, we need only point to several columns of bankrupt notices in the Bulletin to prove that the assertion is as "baseless as the fabric of a vision." May not a nation repudiate as well as an individual. The skirts of the Bulletin itself have been supposed not entirely free from the aspersion to which it so strongly objects, and that the "company," or some of them, under whose auspices it has been conducted, may be found among those who aver their inability to pay their debts, even in legal tender notes, and therefore, find it convenient to adopt the provision that cancels them. We did not desire to be personal or impertinent, but the Bulletin itself, with its long array of bankrupt notices, afforded a very palpable illustration that men are not always offended when advised to pay their debts, and find themselves without the means. The same paper contained the erroneous assertion, and presented the strongest evidence that to repudiate debts, whether just or of questionable morality, is not so unfashionable as it would have us believe. It says further:

Lifting up the stained would-be white garment of hypocrisy, and looking at the cloven hoof beneath—what is the straightout thieves' argument that lies under all the pretty words, which are stringing together to catch the fools, and to furnish the inconveniently scrupulous, about appearances, with a mask to hide the hideous truth? That argument is this, "You propose to pay the National debt in greenbacks, that is repudiation to the extent of forty cents on the dollar; why repudiate only forty cents? Repudiate the other sixty and you save the whole! Two wrongs make one right; to repudiate to the extent of forty cents would be wrong, so would repudiation to the extent of sixty cents, for every just debt ought to be paid in full. Call it therefore an unjust debt, and pay nothing, then you will do right.

This may seem conclusive, but it is not. It is only expressive of the merest sophistry, and is entirely inapplicable to the great question. The demonstration has been so clear in numberless instances that the debt proposed to be canceled with greenbacks, was created in the same, when not of more than a third of the value of gold, and gold was not "nominated in the bond," it requires no repetition. The action of Congress authorizing the loans, specified that the interest of the 5 20's should be paid in gold, but said nothing of the principal, making the inference patent that the bonds were to be met at maturity, not with gold, but with such notes as were made a legal tender in individual contracts. We can see no "hypocrisy" in this—no avoidance of the contract, but its plain fulfillment. To take up the 5-20 bonds, when failing due, with greenbacks is not repudiation of forty or sixty per cent. If the bonds had been sold for gold, and it was stipulated they should be redeemed with gold, then it might be a mooted question whether a private contract calling for gold, is not as binding as a public contract of similar nature, more especially where the latter is relieved altogether of taxation, and the former is taxed to pay the interest on the bonds thus exempt.

We go back to the extract from the New York Herald which states the difference fairly between the Eastern bondholders and the Western tax-payers. Too much space has been occupied in trifling with the Bulletin, which does not appear to have a definite idea, but rather discloses an effort to conceal one. We have, in stating the position of parties, named the distinction drawn by the Herald, and pointed out that it presented the greatest difficulty to be obviated by the opponents to Radicalism. There is one view that should not be lost sight of—that the logic of the West is correct. They owe it to themselves to insist upon the confirmation of their policy. Men in debt may be irrecoverably ruined by contracting the circulation, in a vain effort to resume specie payments, but they cannot be enabled to discharge their indebtedness save by repudiation or bankruptcy, which amounts to pretty much the same thing. The crippled, cramped debtor can only find relief, when every thing is flush, and there is abundance. He might as well relinquish hope, and "take the benefit of the act," if there be a general determination to contract the circulation beyond endurance.

LIFE OF N. BEDFORD FORREST.

This work was placed on our table by the lady who from almost the moment its preparation was commenced by its authors, Gen. T. JORDAN and J. P. PRYOR, has been engaged in extending the number of subscribers in this city. It is a large and handsome volume, well printed, barring some typographical errors that were overlooked, and reflects the highest credit upon the careful compilers, and the publishers, Messrs. BLELOCK & Co., for the complete manner in which the interesting narrative has been embodied in clear type, on fair substantial paper. The vignette of Gen. FORREST in front of the volume is excellent, and the same may be said of other illustrations, although there are some that will not be instantly recognized.

We have not had time to read the book carefully, and desire to do so before we undertake to speak of its merits or omissions, if there be any, in detail. The subject of the biography is one of our own citizens, respected and admired for his intrinsic worth, and the services he rendered in the struggle for independence, in which all our fortunes were embarked. He is fortunate in having secured the services of the two gentlemen, Gen. JORDAN and Col. PRYOR, to examine the necessary papers, and throw them into form, that the many scenes and fortunes incidental to the march, camp and battle might be unshorn of their captivating and absorbing interest in the narrative. Those gentlemen were peculiarly qualified for the task, and brought to it a conscientious sense of duty which would disarm them of any intentional exaggeration, or inducement to disparage even those who fought upon the other side.

The career of Gen. FORREST through the war, brought him many times near this city, and those portions of the work have unusual interest with persons familiar with the topography, or with the incidents narrated. We shall furnish a more extended notice when we have more leisure. The book should have an extensive sale, and in behalf of the lady (Mrs. FRENCH) who has engaged to furnish it to subscribers in this city we would suggest that those who would like to have it before she can possibly reach them, should call at the bookstore of Messrs. CHURCH & Co.

A SCHEME OF VILLAINY.

A fellow named RICHARDSON, as we are informed, has attempted to ventilate his Radical notions by making formal application to the Legislature at Nashville to turn over the city Government into the hands of five Commissioners. We understand that he has used the names of some respectable citizens of Memphis and Nashville, to forward his scheme of plunder and profligacy. So far as the citizens of Memphis are concerned we may say that here at home the use of their names by a party who claims no respectability in our community, cannot affect them. But, as Memphis journalists, we may be permitted to say that the use of the name of JNO. M. LEA, of Nashville, by this impostor and bogus negro billiard saloon keeper may possibly be calculated to damage the reputation of a gentleman whose private and public character is beyond reproach. The writer of this happens to have known Mr. LEA from boyhood. His indorsement would not be necessary in ordinary times. Nor would it be necessary now, but from the fact that Mr. LEA is a man of wealth, and an impostor wishes to use his influence to carry through a scheme of plunder. No purer or better man than JNO. M. LEA lives in Tennessee, and to such villainy he never has and never will lend himself.

A Slight Mistake.

The New Orleans Crescent says when the ex-rebel Gen. Jeff. Thompson was in Boston last summer soliciting the cooperation of the solid men of the Hub in his commercial enterprise, he was introduced by his name and military title to a venerable merchant on Central Wharf. "Happy to see you, sir," said the old merchant; "I am proud to meet a gentleman who took so prominent a part in putting down the rebellion! Take a seat, sir!" The gentleman introducing the General corrected the slight misapprehension of the old merchant. "All the same," was the response, "I am happy to see you, anyway; take a seat, take a seat, sir."

"Jeff" never did the enemy much harm. He may have frightened them some about Commerce, as he doubtless has done others since the war; but as far as he opposed "putting down the rebels," the old gentleman was not far out of the way, for "Jeff" never interposed his precious person in the time of battle; and he was the first to "guv up" when there was a chance to cultivate reconstruction and Boston plaudits.

Proposed Abolition of the Presidency.

The following is an extract from a novel memorial presented by Senator SUMNER, from citizens of Roxbury and Boston, Mass., asking for the abolition of the Presidency:

The Presidency is a copy of royalty. It is an essentially unrepublican institution; for it exalts an individual in a ruling power over all the rest of the population. It is a constantly menacing, growing cause of danger to the republic, whose eventual ruin it must inevitably occasion. If it does not cause such ruin by direct violent subversion, it must effect the same through corruption; for the Presidency is the source of universal corruption. In the opinion of the petitioners the earliest possible abolishment of the Presidency is imperatively necessary to secure the republic from the loss of its liberties through the ascendancy of the executive power. To avoid these dangers they suggest that Congress propose an amendment to the Constitution abolishing the Presidency and transferring the executive functions to an administrative commission or Congressional ministry, to be chosen by Congress from their own body.

—Shares covering nearly $3,000,000 have been taken up by the members of two Co-operative Building Societies in New York city, and a third society has been started. In addition to these a Building Lot Society, including 1000 members, has just come into operation.

—On Friday evening the residence of John J. Winthrop, a well to do farmer, residing about a mile beyond Rossville, was burned to the ground. The fire originated from a defect in the chimney flue.

Special Dispatch to Memphis Appeal.]

JACKSON, MISS., February 22.—The Convention this morning, under a suspension of the rule, adopted the resolutions providing for the appointment of the committee of three to proceed to Washington and lay before Grant and other functionaries the true condition of affairs in Mississippi. Also to negotiate a loan of one hundred thousand dollars to defray the expenses of the Convention—said loan to be paid by taxes levied for that purpose, and for payment of which, the faith of the State shall be pledged.

FROM NASHVILLE.

Special Dispatch to Memphis Appeal.]

NASHVILLE, TENN., Feb. 22.—Judge Shackleford has resigned and Chancellor Harrison will be appointed Supreme Court Judge. Judge Hawkins will hold one more term before he resigns.

The State tax on the Insurance Companies will be reduced, and a per centum fixed.

The Legislature will adjourn March 16th.

The Senate Judiciary Committee is preparing a bill to abolish County Commissioners.

CONGRESSIONAL.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, February 22.—Several attempts were made by the Democratic members to have Washington's farewell address read, and to adjourn, but without effect.

WILKINS, from the Judiciary Committee, reported back the Senate bill for the protection in certain cases of officers making disclosures as parties, or in testifying as witnesses, from which it appeared that in suits now pending in English Courts for the recovery of property of the late Confederacy, a witness was held not to be liable to testify, because his testimony would subject his property to confiscation; and this bill was intended to remedy such difficulties. The bill was then passed.

STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, at ten minutes past two, rose to make a report from the Committee on Reconstruction. The Speaker gave an admonition to the spectators in the gallery and the members on the floor, to preserve order during the proceedings about to take place, and to manifest neither approbation or disapprobation. Stevens said: I beg leave to make the following report, that in addition to the papers referred to the Committee, we find that the President on the 21st day of February, 1868, signed or ordered a commission or letter of authority to one Lorenzo Thomas, to act as Secretary of War ad interim, and to take possession of the books and papers and other public property in the War Department, of which the following is a copy:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, }
WASHINGTON, February 21, 1868. }

Sir: The Hon. Edwin M. Stanton having been removed from office as Secretary of War, you are hereby authorized and empowered to act as Secretary of War ad interim, and will immediately enter upon the discharge of the duties pertaining to that office. Mr. Stanton has been instructed to transfer to you all the records, books and papers, and other public property, entrusted to his charge. Respectfully, yours.

[Signed] ANDREW JOHNSON.

To Hvt. Maj.-Gen. Lorenzo Thomas, Adjutant-General United States Army.

An official copy was respectfully referred to Edwin Stanton.

[Signed] LORENZO THOMAS, Secretary of War ad interim.

Upon the evidence hereinafter presented and in virtue of the powers with which they have been invested by the House, they are of the opinion that Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, should be impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors," and they therefore recommend to the House the adoption of the accompanying resolution.

[Signed] Thadeus Stevens, George S. Boutwell, Jno. A. Bingham, F. C. Beaman, C. F. Hubbard, Jno. F. Farnsworth and H. E. Payne.

Resolved, That Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, be impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors.

The resolution was opposed by Brooks, and supported by Spalding and Bingham. The Senate adjourned at 12:15.

[NOTE.—At one o'clock this morning the lines were still occupied with the speeches made upon the resolution, and nothing could be learned in reference to the action of the House. Ed. APPEAL.]

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, February 22.—Much excitement was occasioned throughout the city this morning, owing to the arrest of Gen. Lorenzo Thomas on an affidavit made by Secretary of War (?) Stanton. Gen. Thomas was admitted to bail in the sum of $5000, to appear before the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia on the 24th inst.

About 11:30 a m., Gen. Thomas having been just released on bail by Judge Carter, presented himself at the door of the War Office and was told to say that he would like to see him. Stanton requested him to proceed with anything he had to say. Thomas remarked that he "had come to discharge the duties of Secretary of War ad interim, having been ordered to do so by the President of the United States."

Stanton replied that he "could do no such thing," and ordered him to his room to perform the duties as Adjutant-General.

Thomas replied: "I have been ordered by the President to be Secretary of War ad interim, and I intend to be."

Stanton again replied that he should not, and again ordered him to his own room, and denied the power of the President to make any such order.

Thomas said he "would not go, and that he should obey the order of the President, and would not obey any order from Stanton."

Stanton said: "As Secretary of War, I order you to repair to your own place, as Adjutant-General."

Thomas: "I shall not do so."

Stanton: "Then you may stay there as long as you please, if the President orders you; but you cannot act as Secretary of War."

Thomas: "I shall act as Secretary of War."

Thomas then withdrew into a room opposite, it being the general reception room. Stanton immediately followed him, and after some conversation, Stanton said: "Then you claim to be here as Secretary of War, and refuse to obey my orders?"

Thomas—"I do, sir, and shall require the mail for the War Department to be delivered to me, and shall transact all the business of the War Department."

At this juncture Gen. Grant and an Aid came in, and said playfully, "Friend, I am surprised to find you here. I supposed you would be at my headquarters for protection."

The Democratic National Convention held a secret session at the rooms of Mr. Belmont to-day, when it was decided to hold the Convention at New York on the 4th of July.

There left 7 30 Treasury notes of the denomination of $1000, dated June 5, 1865, and differing in the run of numbers within which those originally presented were included, are being converted. The public are therefore notified that all the notes of the issue of June 5, 1865, should be immediately forwarded to the Treasury for conversion.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, February 22.—Mr. Sullivan, of the Dublin Nation, recently convicted of publishing seditious libels, has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment; and Mr. Pigott, of the Dublin Irishman, to twelve months' imprisonment. Both of the prisoners will be required, on the expiration of their terms, to furnish security for future good behavior.

PARIS, February 22.—The usual public ball, in honor of Washington's birthday, was omitted this year. Gen. Dix gives a grand fete this evening.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, February 22.—The Convention met to-day, but no quorum being present, it adjourned. The day was generally observed as a holiday, the public offices and banks being closed. Flags were displayed from the shipping, newspaper and military offices, as well as the Foreign Consul's office. The troops were paraded and a salute fired.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

CHICKASAW LODGE, No. 8, I. O. O. F., }
MEMPHIS, February 19, 1868. }

Officers and Brothers and Dear Sirs:

Your Committee respectfully beg leave to report the following:

WHEREAS, We have been informed of the death of our Brother, ALEXANDER T. NORTON, late N. G. of this Lodge, which occurred on the 18th December last, at Angola, New York, in the terrible railroad disaster of that date, we feel called upon to offer some tribute of respect to his memory and virtues. The subject of this notice was a native of Louisville, Ky., lived some years in our midst, when, in 1862, he married, and with his bride located at Lavaca, Texas. He leaves there an interesting and amiable wife and two little children to lament his loss.

Resolved, That while we regret and deplore his death, we bow in submission to the Providence who has ordered this calamity.

Resolved, That though we are indisposed to lavish words over his merits or fulsome y or immodestly praise our late associate, we can heartily say of him, he respected and obeyed and was warmly attached to the principles of our Order; and, appreciating its objects and aims, he was ever ready to assist the helpless, aid the feeble, give to the poor, and mourn with the afflicted and the distressed.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the bereaved wife and children, made desolate by the sad event, which now oppresses our hearts, and that we tender them that aid which is our pleasure as well as our duty to bestow, and believing that the God whom we we acknowledge tureth not away from those who seek his kindness, commend them to His love and mercy for consolation which we cannot give.

Resolved, That the foregoing be published in the DAILY APPEAL, and that a copy of the same be furnished MRS NORTON, the wife of our late Brother.

Fraternally yours,
H. R. PUGH,
H. D. CONNELL,
B. BINGHAM.

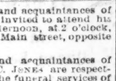
BRAZILIAN EMIGRATION AND STEAMSHIP AGENCY.

[Charles Nathan's Contract.]



THE FIRST STEAM & R UNder this Contract will be dispatched from New Orleans about the 15th March. The Steamers in this Line will be First-class. No discrimination will be made in the accommodations for passengers. All will be furnished with good berths and bedding; plenty of substantial, well-cooked food; all will sit at the same tables; medical attendance and medicines will be furnished free of charge; ample attendance of servants, etc.

Mr. Nathan contracts to obligate himself to transport Emigrants, their personal effects and agricultural implements, to Rio de Janeiro; to board and lodge them while there; and to transport them thence to the Port on the Coast nearest the Settlement selected.

Price of Passage, for adults, $130, gold, to Rio de Janeiro from New Orleans. Children of 8 to 10 years, $75, gold.

Should the emigrant desire to be carried to any other port than Rio de Janeiro, $20, gold, will be charged. These prices are very much lower than those first declared on by Mr. Nathan six months ago, but have become necessary to meet the enhanced outlay of chartering first-class ocean steamers. This advanced price is much less than is charged on the Mail Steamers from New York to Rio de Janeiro; while on Mr. Nathan's steamers the accommodations will be much superior: the Emigrant will be saved the additional expense and delay of the trip to New York, and will, besides, be maintained until he reaches his ultimate destination.

A Circular, giving further details of Mr. Nathan's Contract, will be sent to any one, free. Parties desirous of securing passage on the first steamer, should apply early. Address,

Business, Visiting and Wedding Cards Printed at the Lowest Prices at the Appeal Job Office.

REMOVAL.

Our friends will remember that the APPEAL BUSINESS OFFICE is now located at No. 13 Jefferson street.

The EDITORIAL ROOMS of the APPEAL have been removed to No. 14 Jefferson street, upstairs, where we will be glad to see our friends at all times.

ELDER T. W. CASKEY will preach at the Linden street Christian Church today at 11 o'clock. No services at night.

CENTRAL METHODIST CHURCH, on Union street, Sabbath school at 9 a.m. and preaching at 11 o'clock. Regular Sabbath school singing at 3 p m.

REV. L. C. RANSOM will preach at the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Court street, at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday school at 9 a.m.

REV. WM. SHELTON, D. D., President of West Tennessee College, will preach at the Baptist Tabernacle, Court street, this morning at 11 o'clock.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH, Poplar street, Rev. Richard Hines D. D., Rector. Divine service every Sunday at 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. The seats in this church are, by its articles of association, "forever free," and the church is supported entirely by the offertory. All are welcome—strangers invited.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. J. R. Graves will preach to-day, morning and evening, in the First Baptist Church, corner of Adams and Second streets. Subject—by special request—"The Negro, is he our Brother or a Brute?" The positions of Agassiz and Arisi will be examined. Seats free, and the young men of the city especially invited.

GRACE CHURCH.—Services at this church to-day at 11 a.m. and at 4 p.m. During the morning service Dr. Brooke, the rector, will administer the Rite of Baptism to all candidates who may present themselves. At 4 p.m. the Rite of Confirmation will be administered, the Rt. Rev. J. P. B. Wilmer, D. D. L. L. D., of Louisiana, officiating.

BISHOP WILMER.—The Rt. Rev. Dr. Wilmer, Bishop of Louisiana, is in the city, and by request of Bishop Quintard will officiate in three of the Episcopal churches to-day—at St. Lazarus this morning, at Grace in the afternoon, and at Calvary to-night. On each occasion Bishop Wilmer will preach and administer the Rite of Confirmation.

Job Printing, of all kinds, executed at the Appeal. Satisfaction guaranteed.

A LOST COW.—John Friday was unfortunate enough, yesterday morning, to lose a bovine from the Davy place. No arrests were made, and the animal has not yet been recovered.

CLOTHES ROBBERY.—On the night of the 21st, the residence of P. H. Cavenaugh, No. 32 Union street, was robbed of clothing to the value of five hundred dollars.

SAFE, SARONI AND BELIABLE.—One of the best dry goods houses in the city is that of W. R. Moore & Co., No. 299 Main street. Their card will be found in another column this morning.

STORE ROBBERY.—The store of Matthew Murphy, 218 Poplar street, was robbed about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, of two bolts of muslin. The thief got away with the goods.

BOUND OVER.—Hod Morris, who was aged twenty-five dollars a few days since, was yesterday bound over in the sum of one thousand dollars to keep the peace towards all the good citizens of the State.

STEALING STAVES.—A negro named Charley White was sent up by Justice Gilison yesterday, in default of one thousand dollars bond, for stealing staves from John Cowden in Chelsea.

DRY GOODS.—A Brownlowite, called Adam Parks, was arrested yesterday, charged with stealing five hundred dollars worth of dry goods from Lindauer & Pollock. He was brought before Justice Hall and gave the required bonds.

FALSE PRETENSES.—Mr. Justice Hall committed Jesse Bridgeport yesterday, charged with obtaining money from Moyers & Deadrick under false pretenses. The Criminal Court is expected to adjudicate upon his case.

STOLEN.—Complaint was made at police headquarters yesterday, that two cows, valued at $150, had been stolen from J. C. Jacoby, on the Horn Lake road. The animals were traced near the city, but have not yet been recovered.

RECOVERED.—Officer John McPartland recovered yesterday a quantity of herrings stolen from B. F. Taylor; also a clay-bank pony and a brown mule. It is refreshing to know that stolen goods are occasionally returned to the owners.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.—Should the city authorities execute their resolve to abolish the Fire Department on the 1st proximo, it seems understood that the Board of Underwriters will cancel all existing policies and double their rates.

THE IMPOSTOR.—The Grand Jury of the Criminal Court have found a true bill against L. B. Fould, for robbing Messrs. Smith & Stevens' safe. Fould is the enterprising chap who recently attempted to palm himself off in Louisville as a correspondent of the Memphis DAILY APPEAL.

MATRIMONY.—We have lately added to the APPEAL Job Office some fine fonts of cast type, exclusively for wedding and visiting cards, and all those desiring cards, of any style, may rest assured that they will be satisfied, both as to quality and prices, by giving the APPEAL a call.

BEATEN AND ROBBED.—About four o'clock yesterday afternoon, a negro named Jim Stone was attacked by three of his colored brethren, and not only badly beaten, but robbed of all the money he had on his person. The trio are in prison, and will come before the Clerical Commissioner to-morrow.

THE LOCK GAME.—Almost daily we hear of strangers being robbed by some of the confidence men, who, in large numbers, now infest the city. A case occurred yesterday, whereby Jas. Baily lost $100 on the lock game. If people will not take warning from the notices given daily in the public journals, we have but little pity for them when they get fooled.

MESSRS. WELLS & COLL, Main street, second door from Court, have determined to bring the prices of dry goods down to the standard of the times. They have a member of the firm in New York who understands the market. They are now receiving fresh goods, and their display cannot be excelled by any received in this city.

LAUNDRY, 40 Jefferson street.

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—The curious and admiring continue to throng in thousands to witness the Crook. No diminution in the number of attendants is as yet perceptible, and the great spectacle which run into its second year on the New York boards, promises to draw well for at least a month in this locality. New features are nightly introduced in the ballet, and those who witnessed the spectacle upon its first presentation, would be well repaid for a second attendance, and would discover fresh novelties and attractions. Tuesday night next will bring an especially large attendance, as we doubt not the special train arrangement, effected by Manager Thompson, will be taken advantage of by hundreds of our country friends along the line of the Memphis and Ohio Railroad.

GRAND CONCERT ON TUESDAY NIGHT. On Tuesday night next, the friends of Mr. Henry Farmer will give a grand concert, for the purpose of replacing his costly flute, recently destroyed at the New Memphis Theater. Mr. Farmer has never before, in a long musical career before the Memphis public, submitted his claims for consideration at their hands, although in that time he has assisted at almost every concert given for charitable or other purposes. The remembrance of this fact, in itself, should insure him a full house; but when to it we add his ability as an artist, we are sure we present for him claims that cannot be resisted. He will be assisted on the occasion by the first musical ability—professional and amateur—in the city, and will present a programme of most attractive morceaux. His friends should be up and stirring.

BALL AND FESTIVAL.—On to-morrow evening a grand Festival and Ball will be inaugurated at the Memphis Club Hall, corner of Second and Union streets, the proceeds to be devoted to the building fund of St. Patrick's church. Efficient committees are at work making the necessary arrangements that will insure the comfort and pleasure of all who attend. The church is very much in need of funds, and we hope to see a liberal response to this appeal.

THE VARIETIES.—This house was well filled last night, and the performance, as usual, gave universal satisfaction. M'lle Lamareaux and Oscar Willis closed a very successful engagement. The Misses D. Vere, Eldridge, Wheeler and Cornell, with Toney Benton, Johnny Hart and Charlie White, still please the patrons of this favorite place of amusement.

DRAMATIC RESUME.

The Black Crook through the week drew excellent and sometimes immense houses, notwithstanding the ever attractive Circus of John Robinson was calling a vast part of our population thither. The spectacle is very gorgeous, and the dancing superior, especially of M'lle. Leah and Laurent. The Crook will hold the stage of the New Memphis all this week, and will lose nothing of its interest, as something new and attractive is constantly being introduced. It will be probably "good" for more than this week, and has been more successful than any one piece ever "run" here, and by far the most gorgeous.

E. Booth and Mary McVicker were playing at Detroit last week.

Lotta closed a brilliant engagement at the Broadway, New York, last evening, and will be succeeded by Chanfrau.

The White Fawn is still drawing immense houses at Niblo's. The Herald of the 18th says: "The pulpit may fulminate its thunder and straight-faced morality may dim up its eyes, but the White Fawn still attracts by the magnet of scenic beauty, a really fine ballet and a transformation finale, in which the art of stage management can no further go, immense houses, with the promise of a long continuance of the same."

Pauline is still the attraction at Wallack's. It is of the sensational order.

Maggie Mitchell is at the New York Olympic. The Herald of the 18th thus mentions her "Amry": "Her delineation of the earnest, perceptive, sensitive child of nature is without a fault, and touches the gentler, purer emotions of an audience so aptly as to awaken sympathy and trust without going to the tragic depth of pain."

Mortimer, Parsloe and Donnelly are running the Streets of New York at the New York theater. The Herald gives the "piece" this just award:

We are sorry to acknowledge that the play does not improve with age. It consists of five long, tiresome acts and a prologue, just as dry and uninteresting as any of the acts, and about as lengthy, strung together in a very loose manner.

It says the "piece" was "only by the superb acting of Messrs. Mortimer, Parsloe and Donnelly" saved from driving away the audience. Under the Gaslight is to come next.

Julia Daly is playing the Yankee Gal and other comicalities at the Bowery.

Pike opens his New York Opera House to-morrow (Monday) evening, with Parepa-Rosa as prima donna.

The Lotti Opera Troupe are giving their stupendive performances in Mobile. Just before they left New Orleans their agent "varoosed the rauche."

Emma Madden, sister of Lizzie, is at the Park, Brooklyn. We can indorse what the Herald says of her as "Merry Cricket": Miss Madden was sufficiently girlish, and as sufficiently natural to do the character excellent justice, and having the advantage of youth and personal attractions of an order peculiarly adapted to the part—viz., a modest, arch-looking face and trim, petite figure—she achieved a success in it which few could expect possible for any other than Maggie Mitchell to attain."

Perhaps some of his old friends would like to know that E. L. Tilton is playing "sensational" at the Brooklyn Opera House. The Bravo's Oath was his last.

Fanny Jananschek is at Chicago, bringing tears to eyes all unused to weep. She is "alone in her glory."

Lady Don has been playing at Baltimore, and is succeeded by the Richings opera troupe at the Holiday street Theater.

Olive Logan, the clever and piquant authoress, was to lecture on "stage struck" people at Dodsworth Hall on the 19th. We have not seen an account of her "talk," but are confident it was agreeable.

Miss Emma Pearl was the star at Louisville last week. She appeared in a Protean farce, of which the Courier of the 19th says: The play of the Queen of the Turkeys is a very interesting and clever production, and the star appears to advantage in it. We wish we could say as much of the farce, but candor compels us to state that the farce itself is one of the worst of its wretched class, and that Miss Pearl is the worst actress in such characters as she attempted that we have ever seen. A Protean farce, so called, is an utter abomination at the best.

Edwin Forrest will commence a two weeks' engagement at the Louisville Theater to-morrow evening. The Courier calls him, as he is unquestionably, "the greatest of living tragedians."

Alf. Burnett, the humorist, was in Philadelphia, at the Assembly Buildings, on the 17th inst.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams closed at the Walnut Street on Saturday evening. The Flying Scud (Boucicault's) is running at the Chestnut.

A rejected lover at Hannibal, Mo., says the Courier, lately attempted to blow his brains out with a bugle, and couldn't. Music has charms, but not of the pistolic order.

The American Theater, Samson street, San Francisco, was destroyed by fire on the morning of the 16th. It was the oldest and largest theater in San Francisco.

A Ladies' Fair, for the benefit of the Hebrew Education Society of New Orleans, is being held at the Deutsche Company Hall.

A new athlete of extraordinary strength, has made his appearance at the Holborn Theater, London. He makes a full swing upon the trapeze, holding the rope only by his teeth, and hanging by his feet, head downwards, he swings three men, depending on the strength of his wrists.

The Hernandez Juvenile Troupe were playing at Weisiger Hall, Louisville, last week. They are orphans of Confederate soldiers who fell in battle.

The Saugerties, (N. J.) Telegraph says: "The Miss Stockton who dances and sings in The White Fawn at Niblo's is a native of this village." It adds: "Saugerties can claim the honor of having the best shaped limbs now on exhibition in New York city."

The Dutchess of Gerolstein, the great opera bouffe, is withdrawn from the Philadelphia Academy, Saturday night was to be the last performance for the present. At the Arch street, Under the Gaslight is running in the fourth week, Lotta begins at the Arch to-morrow evening as "Little Nell."

GENTS' Suits of Clothing $6; Gents' good Cassimere Hats $2. J. H. Loewenstine & Bro.'s, Clay Building. Must be closed out.

VISIT TO THE NEW JAIL.—If John Howard, the philanthropist, could visit Memphis, he would find one institution which would gladden his heart and secure his sympathies. We do not write this sentence lightly. Howard spent his life in endeavoring to ameliorate the rigors and hardships of prisons. Light, air and cleanliness, were totally excluded from the European prison system. Every human being is entitled to these, while he lives. The prison system before the days of Howard, regarded prisoners as felons, not entitled to the slightest consideration or mercy, much less justice. But Howard brought about the great reform of instituting an investigation into the abuses of these institutions. Could he now revisit the earth and make a visit to the new Memphis jail, just completed, he would find a model of safety, combined with all the elements of healthfulness. On Thursday we paid a visit and met Mr. Cook, the architect, and Mr. Powers, the builder, who showed us through the building. A full description has already been published in our columns, and we need not enlarge upon it. But we do feel it incumbent upon us to say that a more complete modern jail cannot be found in the United States. The architectural effect of the building, as seen from the exterior, is cheerful and elegant. The interior presents three points, viz.: 1st, the Jailor's apartments and offices; 2d, the prisoners' cells; 3d, the court which affords ventilation and light to the whole structure. The Jailor's apartments and offices are in the front and are entirely detached from the prison. The prison apartments are in a solid iron structure, divided by a wide hall and surrounded by [illegible] court, which is enclosed by [illegible] wall of the building. Outside of [illegible] a heavy wall surmounted by iron [illegible]. The water-works tower, the washroom, the bakery, the baths, the sewers, the warming apparatus are all complete, and make the new County Jail of Shelby county one of the most perfect in the world. It is thoroughly fire-proof and will be a monument to its architect and builder, which the tooth of time cannot destroy for several centuries. We would invite our citizens to pay a visit to this establishment and examine one of the most remarkable and complete structures of our age and country.

MASONIC LIBRARY.—The following circular was unavoidably crowded out yesterday morning. It could fall to be interesting to our Sunday readers:

HALLS, MEMPHIS LODGE, No. 118, A. Y. M.
MEMPHIS, TENN., Jan. 13, 1868.

To the friends of the Masonic Fraternity—Greeting:

The diffusion of knowledge has been, in all ages of the world, a special object with the Philanthropist and the lover of Morals, and there is no medium by which it may be so easily done as the circulation and reading of Books. The cultivation of the mind, proper training of the morals and habits of thought, prepare a people for usefulness and give taste and refinement to society, which, otherwise, would debase the pleasures from groveling and sensual indulgences.

There is no Library in this city, and the community feel its want; and in view of the great necessity existing for such a means for the diffusion of knowledge, South Memphis Lodge, No. 118, A. Y. M., have determined to appeal to the generous for aid to assist them in building up a Library for the benefit of the Masonic Fraternity which will be, at the same time, a blessing to our entire community. We therefore respectfully appeal to those who have been more fortunate than ourselves, and ask their assistance.

It is well known that our Southern country has been greatly impoverished by the unhappy events of the past few years, and we are consequently without the means to purchase books for this purpose. Our Fraternity is one whose sole object is that of the cultivation of Brotherly Love and the dispensing of Charity, and our means are absorbed in the laudable purposes of Relief to the destitute—the Widow and the Orphan—hence our appeal is the stronger, because it is for no personal aggrandizement or profit, but to improve the morals, the cultivation of the mind and the diffusion of useful knowledge.

Donations of Books will be gratefully received and publicly acknowledged through the Masonic Organ of this city, and may be sent through the Southern Express Company, who have generously offered free transportation for all packages donated to this cause, and will be addressed BEN. K. PULLEN,

City Masonic Library Committee.
No. 276 Main street, Memphis, Tenn.

In order to give official sanction of our Lodge, we are authorized to affix its Seal hereto.

Respectfully,
BEN. K. PULLEN,
J. A. MORGAN,
J. F. SE. LES,
J. D. STEWART,
GEO. C. HARE N,

THE PARIS EXPOSITION.—The paper war which has resulted from the awards of the Paris Exposition threatens to cast into the shade the famous war of the Roses. First the pianos and then the sewing-machines became involved in a contest.

We have no desire to enter into the merits of the question ourselves; every one practically acquainted with sewing-machines knows that all first-class machines have their merits. Nevertheless, it is undoubtedly true that some sewing-machines have attained a greater perfection than others, are more comprehensive, more entirely practical, altogether better fitted for the varied requirements of useful and ornamental sewing; and the fact that the representative of the Grover & Baker Sewing-Machine at the Paris Exposition was decorated with the Cross of the Legion of Honor, thus receiving the highest award in the power of the Commission to bestow, is as gratifying to American pride as it is unequivocal proof of the recognized superiority of the Grover & Baker Machines. The representative of the Grover & Baker Machines, being placed on the International Jury, the machines were necessarily excluded from competition, but their vast superiority was delightedly recognized and acknowledged, by conferring upon him a supreme mark of distinction, of which only one hundred and fifty were awarded altogether, while gold medals were as thick as blackberries. This solves the problem of Paris Exposition prizes for sewing-machines at once and forever. Whoever received gold medals, only one sewing machine was decorated with the Cross of the Legion of Honor, and that was the family favorite—Grover & Baker. Memphis Office, 309 Main street.

PERSONAL.—John D. Allen, one of the well known and deservedly popular Allen boys, left yesterday for Cincinnati, to purchase furniture for the Commercial House, which will no doubt prove, under their management, one of the neatest houses in the city.

Our young friend John V. Savage, formerly of the Memphis press, but now of Little Rock, and has lately become a Benedick, paid us a visit yesterday. We were glad to shake his warm hand and be greeted with his usual smile.

J. Augustine Signiago, the accomplished editor of the Grenada Sentinel, arrived in town yesterday. He denies having been the victim of garroters in Natchez.

REGISTRATION.—The office of Commissioner Sears will be open to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. It is the duty of every white man to be on hand, and remain until he secures his certificate. Radicalism can be best defeated at the ballot-box, and carpet-bag candidates taught the sublime lesson that the white men of Shelby county cannot recognize their claims. The Commissioner will be at his office at 7:30 o'clock to-morrow evening, and will issue certificates to such persons whose names appear on the poll book as having voted at the Presidential election of 1864. No vouchers will be required. Let every white man attend to his duty, and procure a certificate.

SHOOTING IN PINCH.—Between 11 and 12 o'clock Friday night, a man approached the front window of a house near the corner of Jackson and Second streets, drew a pistol, and fired at a woman inside, named Mary Welch. The ball struck her in the head, inflicting a severe wound. The discharge of the weapon at once attracted a number of people to the spot, who were informed by the suffering woman that she had been shot by a man named John McCormack, whom she recognized at the window a moment before the attempted assassination. Search was at once instituted for McCormack, who was finally found in bed in an adjoining house, which he had stealthily entered. McCormack was taken to the stationhouse, and will doubtless be regularly committed on a warrant. We could learn nothing relative to any previous trouble between Mrs. Welch and McCormack. As reported, the shooting was deliberate and cold-blooded.

The most complete and best selected stock of any house in the Southwest is White and Brown Table Damasks, Napkins, Doyles Towels, Towelling, and Crash, received and marked off ready for sale on to-morrow (Sunday) morning.

TO MERCHANTS.

The APPEAL Job Office has now every facility for turning out Bill Heads, Dray Tickets, Shipping Tags, Cards, Bills Lading, Account Sales, Etc., with rapidity and at low rates.

Wells & Coll announce the arrival of their long-expected Black and Colored Alpacas. They also beg to announce their determination to repay the long patience of their many kind lady customers by a display of numerous grades of the above, including the celebrated Paris Poplin Alpacas, at prices within easy reach of all—267 Main street.

DO YOU WANT A FORTUNE?—Go to the office of the Phœnix Insurance Company, 280 Main street, and buy tickets in the "Grand Special Scheme of the Raleigh Springs." Tickets, $5.

Wells & Coll, 267 Main street, open on Monday, February 24th, a full assortment of Spring Merchandize, purchased prior to the recent heavy advance. Customers may rest assured they shall reap the benefits arising from our well-timed purchase.

A WORD TO ADVERTISERS.—We have been deeply impressed with the importance of advertising within the last few weeks. One party desiring a farm put in an advertisement, and out of twenty or thirty answers, selected a home for nearly half he expected to give. Several parties have found tenants for vacant houses, at good prices, and we know of a few advertisers who have saved or made by advertising, as many hundred dollars as their advertisement cost dollars.

Fairchild's celebrated Gold Pens, very low, at 317 1-2 Main street.

EMMONS & SON, No. 10 Jefferson street, and 393 Main, have received Frank Leslie, Police Gazette, Police News, The Revolution, Rural New Yorker, Boys and Girls Weekly, Independent, New York Weekly, Country Gentleman, New York Clipper, Last Sensation, Harper's Weekly, and all the popular papers, magazines and periodicals of the day. Call on him for your Sunday reading.

We have introduced a novelty in Scotch and West of England Tweeds and Cassimeres for Gents and Boys wear.

WELLS & COLL, 267 Main.

COUNTRY AND CITY MERCHANTS, TAKE NOTICE.—A large stock of Calicoes, Bleached and Brown Domestics, Boots, Shoes, Notions, Etc., selling out at extremely low prices. J. H. Loewenstine & Bro.'s, Clay Building. Must be closed out.

Braithwait's Retrospect for 1868, just received at Geo. Pattison & Co., 317 1-2 Main street.

Something never introduced into the Memphis market before, is Gunning's celebrated Belfast Hosen for fronting purposes. It is to be found at

WELLS & COLL, 267 Main.

MARKED ATTENTION is called to our yesterday's receipt of White and Brown Muslins, the former embrace some twenty different brands, and the latter a proportionate supply. Ladies have it in their power to reap a rich harvest in this department.

WELLS & COLL, 267 Main.

LARGE SUPPLY of Dress Goods, White Goods and Furnishing Goods at very low figures, at 230 Main street, where M. Wolf & Co. are constantly selling fresh supplies. feb23 tf

CHANGE OF BASE.—In our preambles yesterday, we were agreeably surprised to find that Messrs. Comer & Richardson had removed their goods to 2 Howard's row. This firm will be remembered as being connected with the late staunch firm of Cons. Northrop & Co., and their many friends will now be able to receive all the benefits in their new quarters of an A No. 1 commission house.

SHRUBBERY AND FLOWERS.—Auer & Co., on the north side of Court street, No. 42, have a most choice selection of shrubbery and flowers, from their own nursery, in the vicinity of Memphis. Patronize home institutions, or do not ask patronage from your own neighbors and friends.

A full assortment of Prints just received and now open. Among them will be found some beautiful cashmere Colors for trimming purposes and Robes de Chambre.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, February 22, 1868.

We have no change to report in domestic exchange. The offerings continue to be in excess of the ability of our banks to accommodate, although regular customers find no trouble in negotiating. Rates are firm. Eastern sight, ¼ to ½ off. New Orleans sight, ½ off buying. Checking on all Points East at par, and on New Orleans at ¼ premium. A few fifteen day bills are taken at 1½ discount on New Orleans.

There was nothing doing in the New York gold room to-day, it being observed as a holiday in that market. A few dispatches were received giving street quotations. The opening rate was 142¾, closing excited. The offerings here were, as usual, very light. Dealers bought at 140 to 141. Selling at 142.

City Scrip is dull and nominal. Dealers bought at 40c for small warrants. Selling at 45c. Large lots were not in demand. Several were offered at 40c, with no buyers.

County Warrants are dull. There is no demand whatever, except for immediate use. Buying at 48 to 50c. Selling at 50 to 55c.

Police Scrip is unchanged. Buying at 80 to 83c. Selling at 86c to 90c.

Mons. Jecker, the Mexican banker, is about to sue France for twenty millions of dollars.

The shoe trade at Lynn, Mass., is springing into renewed activity.

The farmers of Kansas sowed their wheat during the warm days of December and January.

The recent discovery of coal in China—if, indeed, it prove to be a genuine discovery—will have a very important effect upon British and French commerce in the East. When English gunboats were needed on the Chinese coast, seven or eight years ago, the coal which they used cost forty dollars per ton. Every ounce of it was carried to the East in transports. Coal is found to some extent in British India, but it is of a poor quality, and we are told that the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company pays about fifty dollars a ton for its coal.

The Liverpool cotton market was quiet at the opening to-day; Uplands, 10¾d; Orleans, 8¾d. At 1.20 p.m. the market was easier and declined ⅛d. Uplands to arrive, 10¾d. Estimated sales, 15,000 bales. There was no other dispatch up to the close of business. This being Washington's birthday there was nothing done in New York. Our market was very quiet throughout, and prices were about 1c lower than on yesterday. Holders are hopeful that to-morrow news will be better, and very few of them show much anxiety to realise at present prices. The market closed dull, with so few sales, and at such irregular prices as to preclude accurate quotations. We therefore omit them.

There was much activity in the general market to-day, although sales were limited on account of the shortness of stock in plantation supplies. Several steamers are now on the way to this port and will arrive with large cargoes by the opening of business on Monday. Mess Pork is scarce and firm at $26 to to $26 50 in a small way, but offerings are made to arrive at $25; Rump is firm at $23 to $23. There are no bulk meats in market, except in a retail way. We quote them nominally as follows: Clear Sides, 14½c; Rib, 13 to 13½c; Shoulders, 10½ to 11½c.; Bacon, Clear Sides, 14½ to 15c; Shoulders, 12½c. Lard in kegs, 15½ to 16c; Ireferes, 15 to 15½c. SUBURBAN LAND FOR SALE AND LEASE.

BEING DESIROUS OF DISPOSING OF MY land, situated three miles east of the city, in a manner to suit the times, I offer it in lots of about five acres or more, upon the following

EASY TERMS:

One-tenth payable on the 1st of January, 1869, and the balance in nine equal annual instalments, bearing six per cent. interest, the purchaser to construct, within a fixed time, improvements of a stipulated value.

Or, one-tenth cash, and the balance in ten equal annual payments, bearing interest, the purchaser's title to be insured in my favor for the amount of the principal of the debt, and in case of his death before the full payment of the debt, the remainder of it to be canceled, and a fee simple deed to be made to his heirs;

Or, I will give a perpetual lease, the lessee paying an annual rent at the rate of six per cent. on the property valuation, and having the privilege of buying the land at any time, by paying the amount of the valuation, but binding himself to improve thereon improvements of a stipulated value.

I will also lease for a term of five or ten years, and be able to give satisfactory references for good character, a certain quantity of the same tract of land, for cultivating which I will furnish the necessary fencing.

My RESIDENCE LOT, one of the handsomest and most eligible situations of any in the vicinity of Memphis, is also for sale cheap, for cash, or on the usual time.

To CONSUMPTIVES

It is authentically stated that one-fifth of the inhabitants of this country and Europe die of Consumption. No disease has been more thoroughly studied, and the natures under which there is no disease upon which exists a greater variety of opinion, and this disease which has more completely baffled all medical skill and remedial agencies.

Some of the prominent symptoms are Cough, Expectoration, Shortness of Breath, Irritation about the Larynx and Bronchia, during Pains in the Sides and Back, Emaciation, and general negative condition of the whole system.

Persons suffering with these or any of its concomitants, should lose no time in procuring the remedies of the proper Remedy in order that they may stay its ravages, and be restored to health. The

Rev. A. E. Wilson's

Prepared Prescription for the Cure of

Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis,
COUGHS, COLDS,
And all Throat and Lung Affections,

By the use of which he was restored to health in a few weeks, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection and the dread disease, Consumption, has now been in use over ten years with the most marked success.

This remedy is prepared from the original Recipe, obtained by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, by A. WILSON, 165 South Second street, Williamsburgh, Kings county, New York.

A pamphlet containing the original prescription with full and explicit directions for preparation and use, together with a short history of his case, with symptoms, experience and cure, can be obtained (free of charge) of Mr. Wilson, as above, or by calling on or addressing

KAVANAGH & DECKER'S
BILLIARD TABLES

THE most reliable Cushion used on Billiard Tables is the

Cat-Gut Cushion,

Manufactured by KAVANAUGH & DECKER, and patented December 18, 1866. (See Scientific American, Vol. 16, No. 1.)

It is the only Cushion that possesses all the qualities essential to a Perfect Cushion. It is the most elastic and most durable Cushion ever offered to the billiard-playing public, as is abundantly proven by the great demand for it since the last few months. Its peculiarity which distinguishes the Cat-Gut Cushion and renders it superior to all others, is the tightened cord of cat-gut which overlies the face and edge of the rubber and running the full length of the cushion, which prevents the ball from being driven into the rubber and jumping from the tables The addition of the cat-cut cord also adds much to the elasticity of the Cushion.

The Cat-Gut Cushion has already been applied to over 1800 tables, which are in constant use. It can be applied to tables of any make, for $75 per set.

Kavanagh & Decker's Factory, at the corner of Centre and Canal streets, N. Y., is the most complete of the kind in the world. The machinery is of the most improved character, the lumber drying room the largest in the United States, the stock used the best that can be purchased, and the workmen thoroughly skilled.

Billiard Cloth, Balls, Cues and Trimmings, all of the best make, constantly on hand.

Kavanagh & Decker are the only agents in this country for Kay's Cue Cement, adjudged by competent authorities to be the best Cement ever used.

Full size Tables cut down for $100.

THE MEMPHIS APPE[AL]

FOR 1868.

ALBERT PIK[E]
EDITOR.

JNO. AINSLI[E]
Cashier and Business Manager.

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL, NOW IN Twenty-Ninth Year, is offered to the republic of Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama, it is believed, with superior inducements to any that have ever been presented to its numerous and rapidly increasing patrons. The stagnation in financial movements, the almost total cessation of trade, the paralysis in agricultural operations, and the anomalous condition of political affairs, instead of counselling to inaction, discouraging enterprise and energy, should arouse our people to redouble their exertions, to extend their enterprise, and to rely with greater confidence and higher resolve upon their own indomitable and unquenchable courage and purpose. If there ever was a time when the people should be

Fully Aroused and Wide Awake,

it is in such an emergency as the present. The temptation is strong to despair, and to surrender to the influence of fear and an almost overwhelming oppression. If we listen to the voice of the Siren and give up to despair, we are lost—irrecoverably lost. It behooves one and all to be up and doing, "with a heart for every fate, still achieving, still pursuing," until the book of our destiny shall be closed. We should fear of no compromise to make with the opposing genius of decay and destruction, which is seeking to drag us down. We should meet the enemy at every stage and wage an aggressive warfare upon him, until we expel him from the land. Poverty comes upon our beloved land and upon our patriotic people "like an armed man." Like "an armed man" we must assail him—with the same will, determination and courage with which he marches upon our homes and hearthstones. In such an emergency,

THE NEWSPAPER

Is the great and potent weapon with which we must carry on the campaign. We might as well at once surrender to the foe as to abandon this agency, which is, in fact, the artillery arm, both for defense and attack, in such a warfare. This great moral and political agent can only be rendered efficient and successful with the countenance, support and material assistance of the people. Never was there so cheap an aid employed to defend the right and to crush the oppressor. A people who are not willing to sustain an auxiliary which may be so potently used to defend their rights, and which can be employed at so inconsiderable an expense, are in the last stage of decrepitude and decline. And so an individual, who may be

FOUND TO DECRY THE PRESS,

Which in all free governments is known to be the most powerful lever, in the service of good government, must be either too imbecile for a freeman or too corrupt to receive the confidence and respect of his countrymen. It therefore happens that the people who sustain the Press with the greatest liberality and who rely upon its free utterance, with the highest confidence in its power to elicit the truth and defend the right, are always the freest and most independent people.

THE APPEAL FOR 1868

Proposes to meet the great questions which will arise, for the restoration of constitutional rule, with the weapons of

REASON, TRUTH AND HISTORY,

Stern, inflexible principle will be its guide in the future, as it has been heretofore. It is emphatically

FOR A WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT,

For the Constitution as it was, and for the Enforcement of the Laws made in pursuance thereof. Its political tenets will not be subject to change by every breeze of popular revolution. It will adhere to the landmarks of the past, which is the only sure guide for the future. Its

ITS LOCAL DEPARTMENT

Will chronicle all important events transpiring around us.

ITS NEWS

AMERICAN HOUSE,
BOSTON, MASS.

THE very important and extensive improvements which have recently been made in the property, will, during the New England season, enable the proprietors to offer to Tourists, Families and the Traveling Public, accommodations and conveniences superior to any other Hotel in the city. During the past summer additions have been made of numerous suites of apartments, with bathing-rooms, watercloosets, etc., attached; one of Tufts' unsurpassed passenger elevators, the best ever constructed, conveys guests to the upper story of the house in one minute; the entires have been refurnished, refitted and refurnished, and the house thoroughly replenished and refurbished, rendering it in all its appointments, equal to any hotel in the country.
